Rwanda's Mountain Gorillas

There are few experiences in the world more memorable and magical than an encounter with a mountain gorilla.

There are thought to be around only 1000 mountain gorillas' worldwide today and all found in small areas of east Africa straddling the boarder of Uganda, Rwanda and Congo.

Gorillas make their homes in and amongst the bamboo-covered slopes of the Virunga Mountains in the Volcanoes National Park in northern Rwanda.

Trek these gorillas with expert trackers and guides to one of the fully-habituated families of mountain gorillas and you can stay with them for an awe-inspiring hour, often crouching just a few feet away, whilst the gorillas go about their daily lives.

Visit Rwanda, Africa's home to some of the last remaining mountain gorillas and a place where you will be warmly welcomed by smiling locals.

Rwanda has bravely risen from a tragic past and stands proudly as a representation of Africa's irrepressible beauty.

Be awe-struck by the profound power of the endangered mountain gorilla, explore Akagera National Park, home to the African Big Five and one of the most scenic national parks in Africa, enjoy Lake Kivu, one of Africa's Great Lakes that spans Rwanda and the Democratic Republic of Congo and dive into Rwandan history and culture with hands on cultural and community experiences.
